It is surprising how little we hear now of the familiar cry of "fraud" which was the stock in trade of our democratic friends, up to within the last six months. Gen. Hancock even fails to mention it in his letter of acceptance. It is true they had Mr. Tilden on the stand at a democratic meeting held in New York last week, and in a few feeble sentences, he tried to stir up the indignation of an outraged democracy, but it wouldn't stir and there was no public outcry against it. The speakers of the evening, such as Speaker Randall and J. Randolph Tucker, failed to mention it and the old man was forced to sit still and listen to their platitudes. Can it be possible that the party is going through this canvass without improving so good an opportunity to denounce "fraud"? Or is it possible that they have discovered it to be a two-edged sword?

One of the strongest campaign documents for the republicans is the monthly public debt statement, which is sent out through the associated press reports. Last month's report shows a decrease of more than five millions for the month of July. So long as the republicans go on decreasing the debt at that rate the people will be satisfied with what they are doing and will submit to no change.

Next Tuesday our democratic friends will meet in convention at Nashville and wrestle with the gubernatorial question, and will decide whether they will make the state debt question an issue in this campaign, or whether they will compromise their differences by ignoring it altogether. There will be a strong party there opposed to the payment of any of that part of the debt created in the construction of railroads. There will also be a strong party in favor of an honest settlement of the debt. Which will be the strongest is hard to tell.

THE NEW YORK CONFERENCE.

A Notable Gathering of Representative Republicans to Confer on the Campaign.

[New York Times.]
The preparations for the republican conference to be held in this city next Thursday, August 5th, are about complete by the national committee. The gathering promises to be one of the most interesting, as it will, no doubt, be one of the most important, ever held in the history of the party. The managers of the campaign, desiring to bring together the prominent men of the party, including the candidates for president and vice president, to reach the fullest understanding of the principal aims to be kept in view in the campaign, sent notices to leading republicans in all the northern states, and have received assurances from a sufficient number of these invited to show that the idea of holding a conference meets with general approval, and that it will be very largely attended. Gen. James A. Garfield has sent word that he will attend. He will leave his home at Mentor, O., next Tuesday afternoon on a special train accompanied by Senator John A. Logan, of Illinois, Gen. Ben. Harrison, of Indiana, Judge Alphonse Taft, of Ohio, the Hon. Chas. G. Williams, of Wisconsin, and the Hon. Omer D. Conger, of Michigan. The party will reach Buffalo on Tuesday night. Here they will be received by Gov. A. B. Cornell and several members of his staff, Lieutenant Governor George G. Perkins, the Hon. Frank B. Hiseck, ex-Governor Jewell, the Hon. Levi P. Morton, Senator Robertson, and the Hon. Richard Crowley. The stay in Buffalo will be necessarily short, and it is not probable that General Garfield will have any opportunity to speak there beyond acknowledging the welcome of the crowds that are sure to receive him. On Wednesday morning at 6:30 o'clock a special train of two or three cars will take the party from Buffalo. On the way to New York brief stops will be made at Batavia, Rochester, Lyons, Syracuse, Rome, Utica, Little Falls, So. Canastota, Albany, Hudson and Poughkeepsie. It is known that Gen. Garfield and Arthur will be in these places. They have all declared their intention of greeting the candidate as he passes through the different cities. General Garfield will not, it is believed, make any speeches on the way, but will make some of his traveling companions the spokesmen to acknowledge the greetings of the republicans who will turn out to meet him and cheer him by the way. The train is expected to arrive at the Grand Central depot at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening. There will be no formal reception there. Gen. Garfield will go to the Fifth Avenue hotel, where he will remain until after the conference on Thursday.

The parties to the conference will be the executive committee of the national committee, including ex-Gov. Jewell, ex-Senator Dorsey, Col. Hooker, Senator Logan, of Illinois, John C. New, of Indiana, John A. Martin, of Kansas, Henry C. Warmoth, of Louisiana, John M. Forbes, of Massachusetts, Chauncey I. Filley, of Missouri, Wm. E. Chandler, of New Hampshire, George A. Halsey, of New Jersey, Thomas C. Platt, of New York, William P. Canaday, of North Carolina, J. Donald Cameron, of Pennsylvania, and Richard C.
